

The Implicit Association Test - Religion

This test, developed by Harvard University, measures attitudes and beliefs about the world's major faiths.

1. Go to <https://implicit.harvard.edu/implicit/demo/selectatest.html> or google "project implicit select a test."
2. Scroll down and click "Religion IAT"
3. Click "Begin Here"
4. Read the instructions and hit "continue."
5. Answer the demographic questions if you like (these are not sent to me) or skip them. Hit continue.
6. You will not see a black screen with information about various religions. Read this and the directions. Then hit "I'm ready to begin this task."
7. Start the test. It will go through similar questions several times, so don't worry if you don't get the hang of it right away.
8. Once the test is over you will answer a number of questions about your feelings toward various faiths. Answer these honestly.
9. Read the results and print out the results. You may take the test again if you'd like.
10. Write 2-3 paragraph reflection on your results.
